CCC Providing Storage Loans on Wheat Crop

Since storage for this year's wheat crop is at a premium, a word about farm storage for wheat under Commodity Credit Corporation loans might be in order. Price support loans will be made at a rate of about 90% of parity, according to W. H. Upchurch, County Administrative Officer for the Production and Marketing Administration.

The temporary loan rate of $1.77 will apply until the permanent rate is furnished to the county office by the State office of the P. M. A. This rate is expected soon after July 1 and it is hoped it will be at hand before any Randall county wheat is eligible for loan.

Farm stored wheat to be eligible for loan must be stored in good dry bins with enough room left on top of wheat for sampling with a five foot probe. It must have been stored for at least thirty days before sampling.

There is no strict requirement for storage bins to be of any certain size or shape or to be made of any specific material so long as the bin will keep the wheat in good condition.

Perhaps the most important thing in farm storage is to be sure wheat is dry enough to keep. The moisture content should be 12% or less to be sure of good storage conditions.

It is understood that warehouse loans will follow about the same procedure as in former years.

Details of the loan program will be mailed to all Randall county wheat growers whose names are on the county office mailing list, provided this information is received in time to be of any value.

Wiley House Moved For New Building

The old Wiley home at 1710 Third Avenue was moved this week and will be the nucleus for an enlarged structure on Seventh Avenue and Twenty-fifth Street , two blocks blocks South of the college campus.

The old home was purchased last year by the Baptist Church and the site will probably be used for another residence late this year or in 1948. A part of the ground in the original home-site is the location for a home for the church custodian and the building is now in process of being erected. Foundation is ready for brick and tile construction of a two-story building which will house an apartment, two garages and a small work-shop for the church. Much of the material is on the ground and work will proceed as soon as workmen can get to it.

While at Trieste, crew members were granted leave to visit Switzerland and Paris, in addition to local resorts.

Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Davis and Bill returned Thursday from Bloomington, Indiana, where they attended the commencement exercises of their daughter, Anita, from Indiana University. Miss Davis received the Bachelor of Arts degree, and graduated with honor in the top five per cent of a class of 1385 seniors.

Mrs. Will Reader of Dallas has returned to her home after visiting for the past week with her daughter, Mrs. A. D. Prater, and family.

Sheriff Warns Citizens That Forgers Coming

Sheriff M. E. Cantrell warns Canyon business men to beware of forgers during the harvest rush.

It is the common practice for forgery to follow the harvest rush, dressed as farm hands and present checks on well known and responsible farmers, with the notation "for labor" in the corner of the checks. These fellows usually get hold of an authentic check and copy the handwriting so that the average business man cannot distinguish the true from the forged instrument.

A number of forged checks are usually passed in Canyon during the harvest time.

With the largest harvest in the history of the county, and with a large influx of laborers, officers fear that the number of forgers will increase.

The only safe thing is to call for identification both of the signer and the man presenting the check, and to call the bank for full and complete identification.

In order to interest merchants in cashing checks, the forger usually buys merchandise and then offer the check in payment. They expect a liberal amount of cash as change in their purchase. This transaction is for the purpose of inducing the merchant to take a chance on the check.

Sheriff Cantrell states that the number of forgeries have been very large following the wheat harvest from the South Plains, and the number will increase in Randall county over previous years unless business men are alert in not cashing checks.

Both Texas Senators Vote Labor Bill; Also Gene Worley

The Texas delegation in Congress was pretty strong for the labor bill which passed Congress by a large majority and which President Truman vetoed.

Congressman Eugene Worley voted to pass the bill over the veto of the President. Many Texas Congressmen joined Worley in this vote.

Both Senators, Connally and O'-Daniel, voted to override the veto.

The labor bill is now the law, and labor leaders are seeking ways for an early test of its validity.

A. J. Koch Is Named County Commissioner

A. J. Koch was elected Monday by the Commissioners Court to succeed Calvin Casey as commissioner from precinct No. 4.

When Mr. Casey resigned, he asked the court to fill the vacancy on or before August 1. Due to urgent matters in the court, Mr. Casey was requested to keep his post as long as possible before moving to California on account of the health of his daughter.

Mr. Casey stated Monday that he would remain on the court until after the July meeting at least.

Mr. Koch was selected from a field of five candidates who had filed letters of application. He states that he has lived in Randall county for five years. He owns a farm of 160 acres in the north part of the county, in the W. O. Turpin community.

Mr. Koch states that he has had several years' experience in road work, as road overseer and in repairing road machinery, and that he is thoroughly familiar with building and maintaining roads in precinct No. 4. He operated a garage and general repair shop in Amarillo for 15 years prior to moving to the farm in Randall county.

Mr. Koch and one of the other applicants appeared before the court Monday. The other three made application only by mail.

Only Girl Scouts are eligible, it was emphasized.

Bob Jarrett Ends Year As President Of the Rotary Club

The Rotary year came to a close Tuesday and President Robert P. Jarrett used the opportunity to thank the members for their fine cooperation during the past 12 months. He turned the gavel over to Herschel Coffee, president-elect for the year starting July 1st, at the end of the program.

Dr. Jarrett brought his Electrocardiogram which has been of such great value to physicians in the study of heart diseases. He made a short classification talk on this subject.

Heart diseases have increased during recent years. It was thought in years past that the disease was among older people alone. In recent years the disease has developed among children.

Dr. Jarrett quoted an authority who had made extensive study of the disease. This physician attributed the increased number of cases "to the stress and strain of modern life." People are advised to relax and slow down.

Mexico was pointed out with a low percentage of heart cases, and there the citizens take life easy.

Various questions were asked regarding the disease, which has taken many local citizens in recent months.

Mr. Coffee returned last week from the Rotary International Convention at San Francisco. He stated that he was greatly impressed with a statement from the new president of Rotary International: If there was a Rotary Club in every community of every nation of the globe, and the ideals of Rotary were effective among all members, the trials and tribulations of the world would be settled.

Rev. Hubert Thomson was added to the board of directors of the club to replace Dan Sanders who has resigned.

Visitors were: Rollin Pease of Tucson, Ariz.; John H. Patton, Hugh Clearman, F. G. Collier, R. D. Ford, all of Hereford; K. C. Bell, R. E. Wertz, E. E. Nichols, A. D. Steed, L. D. Dorsch, C. M. McMurtry, Horace Griggs, all of Amarillo; B. W. Musgrave of Canyon.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Buchanan and children of Amarillo were recent guests here in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Barnard. They are former residents of this city.

Sgt. Calvin Waller of Roswell, N. M., flew to Canyon last Thursday and spent a few hours visiitng with his sister, Mrs. E. I. Boyce.

Drive Started To Get Funds For Museum

The Executive Committee of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society met Saturday to go over the business affairs of the Association.

The walls of the second unit of the building have been completed, but the roof for this unit has not been completed.

The executive committee will renew its campaign for funds in order that the building may be completely enclosed and finished.

Senator Grady Hazlewood expressed the opinion that the $90,000 appropriation was not dead, but that the Comptroller would have to find the money before this bill could be allowed and the building completed.

The directors of the Association will meet in July for a complete canvass of the situation.

Hermon Pipkin of Amarillo is directing the financial campaign for funds with the idea of completing the building in a near future.

FRANK ADCOCK VISITS HERE

Rains Put End to Harvest During the Past Week; Farmers Hopeful For Dry Weather To Save Wheat

Rains during the past week have stopped harvest generally over Randall county. A few wheat farmers have done some cutting, but the wheat is still too green.

Rain Thursday night measured 1.40 inches; and rain again on Tuesday night measured .73 of an inch in Canyon.

Fortunately there was neither wind nor hail in parts of the county which have so far reported on the moisture.

Moisture content in the wheat that has been harvested so far is too high, and elevators are turning down much of this wheat for storage. It is reported that the moisture test has run as high as 20%. Such wheat would heat in the elevators unless turned often, and with the greatest harvest in the history of the Panhandle at hand, elevators are not taking the chance of filling their storage with wet or green wheat.

Elevators on the South Plains are filled, and box cars are not available. As a result, Highway 87 is lined with big trucks hauling wheat to Amarillo.

Prediction of the weather department is for more showers Wednesday and Thursday. If more rain falls this will mean the further postponement of harvest. However, unless wind and hail comes, the delay in harvest will do no material damage, as wheat in the fields will be given a chance to ripen.

Highway Patrolmen Pick Up Violators Who Truck Wheat

State Highway Patrolmen were busy in Canyon Monday picking up wheat trucks which were operating from the South Plains to Amarillo.

Various charges were filed against offenders who had not taken the time to secure the necessary permits to use heavily loaded trucks.

The chief offense was in overloading. The state permits the use of the highway for heavy loads, provided the owners take out the necessary permits for overloading. This phase has been largely ignored by the truckers.

So far none of the checks which were taken have shown up. All those giving the checks have been notified, so far as Mr. Middleton is able to remember.

Two Schools Fail Saturday Increase Taxes

Three common school districts held elections Saturday on the increase of local taxes from $1.00 on the $100 valuation to $1.50.

The election carried in one district; was defeated in one district and failed in another when the vote was a tie.

There were 10 votes in the Pierce district, all of the votes being cast in favor of the increased local taxes.

The proposed increase was defeated in the Lakeside district when 19 votes were cast, with 8 votes favoring the increase and 11 votes being cast against the proposed increase.

In the Palo Duro District the vote was a tie, 7 for and 7 against the proposed increase. The proposal therefore failed to carry. There are seven trustees in this district, and it was considered likely that the trustees would call another election to see whether it would be possible to increase the tax rate before the county rolls were compiled.

With the exception of Lakeside and Palo Duro all of the districts which transport the children of the districts to Canyon schools have voted to increase the local tax rate.

Problems for Doctors Listed

Prospects for Solving Them 'Good,' A.M.A. Told as Second Century Starts.

CHICAGO. — A spokesman for American Medical association, on its 100th anniversary, listed seven major problems that medical science still must solve.

Dr. Morris Fishbein, editor of the A.M.A. Journal, listed these seven problems as the most important ones facing the medical profession:

1. Heart disease—more people die from it than from any other single disease.
2. Cancer—one in every eight persons is likely to become a cancer victim.
3. Virus diseases — including infantile paralysis and the common cold.
4. Atomic radiations and their effect on human beings and human tissue.
5. High altitude and speed effects on pilots.
6. Degenerative diseases of the nervous system.
7. Neuropsychiatric problems raised "by our high-speed, high-tension environment."

Prospects Are Good.

Fishbein said the prospects for solving the problems were "good."

He said the progress of medical science in the last 50 years was "greater than in all of the previous history of man."

"Because of the increasing speed of the acquisition of medical knowledge it is possible that we will make more progress in the next 50 years than the last," he predicted.

Fishbein said the A.M.A. did not claim credit for much of the medical advancement in the last 100 years, but that many achievements were wholly creditable to the association.

Celebrate Centennial.

He cited the A.M.A.'s war on patent medicines, quackery, frauds and low standards of professional ethics as powerful factors in producing a high quality of medical service.

Its service to members of the profession through its publications and maintenance of professional standards is equal in importance to its service to the public, Fishbein declared.

The A.M.A. was founded May 5, 1847, by a handful of delegates to the national medical convention in Philadelphia. Today it has a membership of more than 130,000.

The association will celebrate the centennial anniversary of its founding at its annual convention in Atlantic City. It is a non-profit group with headquarters in Chicago.

Mellon Trust Upsets Policy In $140,000 Gift to Hospital

WASHINGTON. — A good turn paid off for George Washington university in the form of a $140,000 gift for its hospital from the A. W. Mellon educational and charitable trust.

The Mellon trustees broke away from policy in making the gift, explaining it was due to the university's helpfulness on the National Gallery of Art here, which the late Andrew W. Mellon gave the nation, and his friendliness toward the school. The university helped Mellon obtain the site.

The Mellon trust policy is to use its funds to further educational and charitable projects only in and around Pittsburgh, where Mellon lived.

Curb on German Liquor Club Is Tightened by U. S. Army

FRANKFURT, GERMANY. — An official U. S. army order will limit soldiers to three bottles of hard liquor a month, including drinks bought across a bar, it was announced.

The directive established a coupon system to cover bar drinks, which previously were not included in the monthly ration of three bottles. It also provided for tightened border controls against smuggling of liquor into zones where U. S. troops are stationed.

Miller admitted striking the child a fatal blow with his fist. He pleaded guilty and the court fixed the degree in a two-day trial.

Question of Milking a Cow Trips Him; Fined as Tipsy

PORTLAND, ORE. — Matt Mattson, sparring away from a jail sentence for drunkenness after admitting he was guilty, told Judge John B. Seabrook:

"I got a job milking cows in a dairy."

"On which side do you milk a cow?" asked the skeptical judge.

"Do you know?" the judge persisted.

"Underneath!" said Mattson.

The judge fined him $20.

SEARCH WARRANT NEEDED

A salesman making a month's stay in town bought some limurger cheese to eat in his room. When he got ready to leave he still had about half the cheese left. He didn't want to pack it, nor did he want to leave it lying in the room. He went over to the windowsill, carefully removed a plant from the pot, buried the cheese and replaced the plant.

A few days later he received a telegram from the hotel: "We give up. Where did you put it.

A sharp drop in the volume of sales of U. S. goods abroad is under way, even though it won't show up in Government statistics for several weeks. U. S. exports declined so sharply during May that the congestion at some ports has disappeared entirely. Shortage of dollars and increased restrictions on imports in many countries are responsible for the turndown.

A university professor says that Americans aren't smart enough to live in the atomic age. In that case we suppose they'll just have to live without the smartness—as usual.

To Build Battleship Run by Atom Power

British Admiralty Announces It May Experiment.

LONDON.—The British admiralty hinted that it may try to develop an atom-propelled battleship. In a statement saying it planned research to maintain the navy's efficiency it said:

"Many lines of inquiry present themselves. On the defensive side, the navy has to apply the lessons learned by its observers of the Bikini tests of the atomic bomb, but the implications of atomic energy are by no means limited to defensive aspects and may, contrary to initial reactions, lead to enhancement of naval power in a highly modified form and with wide offensive and defensive commitments.

"The atomically propelled battleship, for instance, would have no immediate refueling problems, and the period for which it could stay at sea would be limited only by other and generally less urgent supply problems, a vital factor if the ship proved less vulnerable than the harbor."

The statement said 24 million dollars would be spent in all forms of navy research this year.

The ministry of supply announced that a school to train youths past 14 for atom work would be opened at what it called "the government atomic energy factory" at Springfields in northern England. The plant, previously known as a research center, "will be used for the manufacture of uranium metal," the announcement said.

Students will be paid while studying and will get jobs in the factory after completing chemistry courses.

"Both in the factory operations and in chemical analytical work the most stringent medical precautions will be taken to avoid any hazard to the health of the workers," the ministry said.

The British chemical workers' union through its acting secretary-general, Bob Edwards, said several workers at an atomic research center in the north had become sexually impotent. It described as inadequate a current government investigation of its complaint.

Parks His Car in Street, Sinks Six Feet in Night

SAN FRANCISCO. — Heinz Eender parked his car outside his house and settled down for the night.

So did the car.

The street in front of Bender's home sank slowly during the night and in the morning Bender found his car a good six feet below the surface.

Water department workmen explained that a broken water main had washed away the sand below the paving. The weight of Bender's car was enough to cause the street to collapse.

Surgery Finds Recovery Is Speeded by Short Bed Stay

CHICAGO.—Patients who get out of bed shortly after an operation definitely recover more rapidly than those who are confined there for long periods, Dr. Nathaniel O. Calloway told the Tri-State Hospital assembly here.

Dr. Calloway, now on the staff of the University of Illinois research and educational hospitals, headed the navy's study of convalescence during the war.

It is strange that so simple a discovery was so long in coming, Dr. Calloway said, since it can be seen that "animals, post-operatively, are never quiet. Children climb up the side of the bed as soon as the anesthesia wears off. And yet, in both groups, there are fewer than average complications."

Now that prolonged bedrest has been established as harmful by exhaustive studies, appendectomy cases need stay in bed for only a few days instead of several weeks, and those suffering major operations for perhaps one week instead of three, he said.

Mothers May Park Babies In Church While Shopping

RICHMOND, VA. — Mothers concerned with what to do about baby while shopping get their answer from the Second Baptist church here.

Officials of the church nursery invited mothers to leave the tots with them and have the assurance that baby is "getting that vital growth in Christian group experience so necessary to the child's development before he becomes of school age." The nursery is conducted on an interdenominational basis.

Man Sentenced to 20 Years For Strangling His Wife

The sentence was imposed by Hudson County Judge John Drewen in Oyer and Terminer court.

Gorski had pleaded no defense to an indictment which charged he strangled his wife with a silk muffler during a quarrel over placing their four minor children in a home.

A new device for training airplane pilots has been developed in Sweden. It is reported to be particularly effective in the teaching of navigation and night flying. Built on the principle of the Link trainer, the apparatus includes a wireless instrument on the outside that marks on a map with a red line all the mistakes which, if made in the air, might cause a crack-up. The machine, constructed after two years of experimentation by a Swedish manufacturer, is said to do away with the risk of life and equipment involved in present methods of training and to cut the cost of operating training planes. The Swedish Air Corps is expected to make the device standard equipment.

Although the U. S. decision to aid Greece gave the country a momentary pick-up, the effects have worn off, and conditions are worse now than they were before President Truman's March 12 speech. A number of influential Greeks who considered supporting the Athens Government have gone over to the guerrillas because they apparently figure that the Communists will win out in the long run.

Argentina has jacked up the askingprice for her wheat to $5.13 a bushel. That price, demanded by the Peron Government, forced the Union of South Africa to turn down 45,000 tons of Argentine wheat assigned to the Union by the International Emergency Food Council. Despite the high export price for wheat, the Argentine Government pays the farmers only about $1.10 a bushel.

Rural electrification in the Soviet Union is to be speeded up this year. Under the Five-Year Plan, 6,700 collective farms and 1,300 machines and tractor stations are to be electrified. In 1946, according to Russian reports, 2,615 local power stations were built, providing power to 4,000 collective farms and 900 machine and tractor stations.

Washington considers the international situation graver now than at any time since before the outbreak of World War II. In some cases, disturbing forces are considered more intense now than they were in the late '30's.

Robert S. Kerr To Speak During the Baptist Hour

Hon. Robert S. Kerr, former Governor of Oklahoma, will be the Baptist Hour speaker Sunday, June 29. His subject will be "The Christian, a World Citizen." This is the concluding program in the current Baptist Hour series on the general theme, "Christ, the Answer." The program can be heard in this vicinity over KGNC of Amarillo at 7:30 a. m., Sunday, and the same hour will be used on succeeding Sundays by Presbyterians and Episcopalians, each giving a program on alternate Sundays. These programs usually originate in Atlanta, Georgia, headquarters of a Southern Religious network.

Mr. Kerr has been a Bible Class teacher since he was seventeen, and is now teacher of a class of men in First Baptist Church of Oklahoma City. He is an active layman in the affairs of his denomination.

A census of the Netherlands has been taken by the Government to help in the work of postwar reconstruction. The census, the twelfth since 1830 and the first since 1930, will show, among other things, the changes in the size and distribution of the population and the shifts in the economic and social structure. Housing and population figures are scheduled for publication about August 1. Counting machines have been borrowed from the United States to speed the compilations.

Siamese tin has begun to move to the U. S. for the first time since the end of the fighting in the Pacific. One shipment of about 2,000 tons of metal and concentrates has been made, and American officials hope to get much more of the country's stock pile of 15,000 tons of concentrates and 2,000 tons of metal. Sales to the U. S. will help relieve Siam's dollar shortage, which has prevented the importation of badly needed goods.

British, Canadian and U. S. firms are to spend about $61,750,000 on new industrial enterprises in Australia. The new factories are to be built by 66 overseas companies and will provide jobs for approximately 17,000 persons. Products to be made include pharmaceutical goods, textiles, plastics, carpets, fabrics, kerosene and oil engines, electric cables and cosmetics.

The new House Small Business Committee's first big job will be a probe into so-called tax advantages held by co-ops over business competitors. This will be followed shortly by a survey of Federal lending programs to find out how much the Government has stepped on the financial toes of small private banks.

Pitch Him a Strike

YOU IN THE CHURCH THE CHURCH IN YOU

Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that young and old alike are showered with benedictions that fortify and influence for a better citizenship and a stronger democracy. In the church the ministerial are molding religious character. Statesmen today declare that the church alone can furnish leadership to handle the affairs of state in these perilous times. Then we with our children should go to the church of our choice on Sunday. "You in the Church and the Church in you"—form a combination for good.

DADDY, the count is on you . . . not the batter. You're not pitching him strikes. If he gets on base it will be a miracle. You are doing both the pitching and umpiring the game. Quite a novelty setup you have there daddy. How is that youngster to learn to play the game of life in GOLDEN RULE FASHION when his own daddy throws him nothing but 'balls' and calls 'em strikes? W-h-y, your son never will have a chance. You have set the pace daddy . . . blazed the trail of your own blood to a life of dishonesty, greed, and foul pay when you fail to put 'em over the plate.

YOUR church has a remedy for this sort of conduct. It upholds the better way of life through the teaching of God's word. The church aids you in establishing a principal . . . the GOLDEN RULE PRINCIPAL and to build a faith strong enough to play the game of life in strict GOLDEN RULE FASHION.

THE church is universal language . . . it's teachings will bring nations together and prepare the way for His kingdom to come on earth. Go to your church on Sunday and take a friend.

Arctic Training To Be Widened

Army to Focus Attention on Potential Invasion Routes Over Polar Caps.

WASHINGTON. — Its military attention focused on potential invasion routes over the polar caps, the army is planning a second winter of arctic troop training. Arctic operation of naval ships also is scheduled. Gen. Jacob L. Devers, army ground forces commander, said that last winter's maneuvers convinced him that new emphasis must be placed on the use of "air transportable" foot soldiers in those areas.

The army announced that elements of an infantry division and troop carrier aircraft will engage in joint exercises in Alaska beginning November 1.

The base for the maneuvers will be at Big Delta, Alaska, 100 miles southeast of Fairbanks. Elements of the transport aircraft will remain at Anchorage, and from there will engage in the troop movements.

Special Ships for Navy.

The army's announcement follows a navy request to congress for a construction program to include both submarines and surface ships especially equipped for duty in ice-packed arctic waters.

To start off that part of the program, the navy proposes one submarine outfitted as an "arctic picket boat" and a fast attack transport capable of ice breaking navigation.

The navy said the picket boat submarine could be used to detect airplane movements and for other secret functions. This suggested the use of radar to extend the present comparatively limited scope of any land based radar aircraft warning network that might be installed along the Alaskan-Canadian arctic coast.

The Feasible Way.

Last winter's experiments in Alaska with two army ground task forces—Frigid and Williwaw—were followed by assertions from some experts that there was no prospect that infantry troops could be moved by land in the congealing cold of the arctic. The most feasible way is to carry them by air, these experts reported.

The troops assigned to next winter's operations are not parachute outfits, but five standard infantry rifle companies of the 2d division. They will carry full field equipment and supplies.

The rifle companies will be flown to Alaska at one month intervals beginning November 1 in airplanes of the air tactical command. Upon completion of training, each company will be flown back to Fort Lewis, Wash., headquarters of the 2d division. The exercises will run to March 1, 1948.

Pilot Finds Permit Needed To Land on N. Y. Streets

NEW YORK. — A Bronx flier, piloting a rented plane with a 20-year-old ballet dancer as a passenger, made a forced landing in a busy Manhattan thoroughfare because of engine trouble — and promptly received a police summons for doing so without a permit.

The pilot, John M. Jewett, 23, a former 9th air force pilot, told police he had been cruising over Manhattan and the Bronx for 20 minutes when the engine began missing.

He said he dived in an unsuccessful attempt to eliminate the trouble and, spotting a break in automobile traffic on the Henry Hudson parkway, landed the craft on a grassy strip in the center of the thoroughfare.

Neither Jewett nor his passenger, Pauline Goddard of Manhattan, was hurt.

Patrolman Edward Rooney handed Jewett a summons to appear in Upper Manhattan court for landing without a permit from the parks commissioner, who has jurisdiction over parkways.

Germans Have Cars, but Gas Rationing Halts Operation

DORTMUND, GERMANY.—There are 524,052 motor vehicles in operation by the 38,618,291 Germans living in the British and American zones of Germany—or one vehicle for each 74 persons an official survey shows.

The statistics, compiled by the bizonal traffic administration, showed 277,538 vehicles in the British zone which has a population of 22,386,643, and 246,514 vehicles in the American zone which has a population of 16,231,648. Many Germans are unable to operate their automobiles for lack of gasoline, and those licensed to operate them are severely rationed on fuel.

Woman Doctor Is Blamed for Death of 40,000 Prisoners

DACHAU, GERMANY. — U. S. war crimes prosecutors accused a German woman doctor of indirect responsibility for the death of nearly half of the 80,000 male concentration camp prisoners whom she forced to march in naked review before her.

The doctor, Erika Flocken, passed on the physical condition of male inmates in the Mueldorf concentration camp in 1944 and 1945. The indictment charged that she selected prisoners for extermination by gas.

ELIMINATE THE POSITIVE

There was a knock at the kitchen door. When Mrs. Smith opened the door, there stood a lanky youth black as the ace of spades.

"Good mawin', ma'am," he said. "I is lookin' fo' somebody that wants somebody to do sump'in. You all doan' know nobody that wants to hiah nobody to do nothin' does you?"

"SO HELP ME!"

The cross-examiner was having trouble with a difficult witness. Exasperated he asked if he was acquainted with anyone on the jury.

"Yes, sir, more than half of them," the prospective witness replied.

Are you willing to swear that you know more than half of them," persisted the lawyer.

"As far as that goes, I'm willing to swear that I know more than all of them put together."

Secretary of State George C. Marshall intends to have a new Assistant Secretary for world-wide political affairs. The duties of the Latin-American assignment vacated by Spruille Braden will be expanded accordingly. Norman Armour, a career diplomat, hesitated to come out of retirement when asked to take the larger job because he felt that the responsibilities would require the rank of an Under Secretary. Marshall, however, impressed on Armour that the work couldn't wait on Congress to create a higher rank in the Department.

A number of American soldiers were seated around a table in a crowded Paris restaurant when a much-hurried waitress spilled a bowl of hot soup all over the chaplain.

Miss Blewett and Mr. Cosner Are Wed May 27th

Miss Theresa Nell Blewett, daughter of Mrs. Irene Blewett, Canyon, became the bride of Mr. John Jefferson Cosner, Jr., on May 27, in a double-ring ceremony performed by Dr. Paul G. Wassenick, in Austin.

The lovely garden, abounding with white daisies, magnolia blossoms and ferns, at the home of Justice and Mrs. G. B. Smedley formed the setting for the wedding. Mrs. Marvin Heinatz, organist, played the traditional wedding marches and "Traumeri" and "To A Wild Rose" as background for the ceremony.

The bride wore a white suit with white accessories and carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses. She was given in marriage by Mr. Henry E. Jacobson, a very good friend of the family.

Miss Marjorie Joseph, bridesmaid, wore a light yellow suit. Her corsage was white roses.

Mr. Wm. Otto Mittag was best man.

Hazel Cooper Is Bride of Stanley R. Hall in Calif.

On June 15, before an altar banked with gladioli and flanked with candles in the wedding chapel at the University of Southern California, Miss Hazel Cooper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Cooper, became the bride of Mr. Stanley R. Hall of Los Angeles. Rev. Julius Du Bose, Presbyterian minister, read the single ring ceremony.

The bride chose for her wedding gown a soft white wool suit with which she wore a hat of white and pastel field flowers. She carried a testament from Bethlehem and a Parisian linen and lace handkerchief that had been sent her from Paris by a friend.

Mrs. Hall is a graduate of West Texas State College and took her masters degree from the University of Southern California. For the past several years she has been teaching in the California schools in the winter and spending her summers in Canyon with her parents.

Mr. Hall is owner and manager of the S. C. Men's Shop on the campus of the University of Southern California. He served for 3 years as Captain in the Army Air Corps, spending most of the time in Ceylon and other points in the Far East.

Mr. and Mrs. Hall are at home at 3518 University Avenue, Los Angeles.

We are not surprised that President Truman vetoed the labor bill. He has been lamenting the lack of authority of the government to stop strikes, but when the Republican inspired labor bill was laid on his desk the President succumbed to the wishes of the union leaders and vetoed the measure. He is of the opinion, so he says, that strikes will increase under such a bill. The News has published much on the labor situation. We have always affirmed that we were not opposed to organized labor, or to union as we held a membership card in the Typographical Union back in the old days when the members ran the union; not the union leaders running the men. Our position has been throughout this discussion that the 14 million union members were not thinking for themselves, and had no freedom of action. They are under the thumb of the few men at the top, who are using the members for their own benefits. If the proposed labor bill will not curb these labor racketeers, and make it possible for the rank and file of the unions to have something to say about the union activities, then the whole union setup must be blasted. If it takes a general strike for the 14 million men to get some sense in their heads, the nation should get itself ready for a universal strike. The public can stand such a strike longer than the rank and file of the 14 million. Our contention is that the welfare of 126 million Americans is far above that of 14 million, who in reality have no voice in their own actions. These are closed corporations, with no one having a say except John L. Lewis and the fellows who are following in his steps. Whether the President does or does not want the bill is pure and simple politics. Maybe the Republicans are playing politics too. But isn't it better to have some sort of labor bill than to have none at all?

Why should a good reporter be fired for doing his duty? We listened with great interest the other day as Edward Kennedy gave his version of the unhappy situation in which he released the story of the German surrender for the Associated Press 24 hours before he was authorized to do so. Kennedy charges that the whole affair is political; that President Truman fell for the demand of the Russians, who wanted to push into Berlin where pictures were taken of the victorious Russian army marching into Berlin. The impression would be left with Russians, and the nations which Stalin sought to control, that Russia alone, and unaided whipped the Germans. Kennedy charged that the Germans were forced by American generals to announce that the war was over, in spite of the fact that American brass hats sought to withhold the story while Russia was massing troops in Berlin for a big show. In the meanwhile, thousands of American troops, who knew nothing about the end of the war, were in danger of being blown into eternity by the political move which the Russians wanted to put over. Kennedy did not make accusations; he was simply telling his story; he was never fired; but his pay check stopped; he was never given a hearing; the brass hats of the army and the Associated Press, as well as the White House simply shut up like a clam. They acted very much like the little boy who was caught stealing apples and were fearful of getting the daylights whipped out of him. If Kennedy is telling the truth, the American people should know it. If he is just another liar—and there seems to be plenty in the world—he should be branded as such. Kennedy stated that Friday noon at Amarillo was the first time that he has revealed his story to the public. He held a large audience spellbound. He spoke simply and sincerely. Coming years after the fateful bungling, Kennedy has waited for some one connected with the government to speak. Failure of the White House or the brass to talk, Kennedy has laid down a challenge. This charge will probably be ignored, just as it has been in the past years. Kennedy is on the spot; and if his words are true, someone in Washington should be on the spot.

It is hard to distinguish between two men who seem to be after the objective, but go a different route. That is what we think of Paul Porter, who talked in general terms as he outlined the $250 million dollars which the United States is going to give Greece. Porter would work through Greece; while Henry Wallace would work through Russia in giving aid to Greece. It seems strange that Porter would criticize Wallace so severely in his attitude of turning the resources of America over to Russia. Porter would dole out smaller amounts to Greece, to be followed by gifts to the other distressed nations of Europe. Porter failed to state what he would do to or for Russia, the sore spot of Europe. We handed Russia all of the war materials she wanted under lend-lease while the fighting was on, without asking what Russia would do to or for us when the shooting stopped. Are we sealing any sort of bargain with Greece, England, or any of the nations which Porter says must be helped, in this post-war period? Would Porter do in small doses the very thing which Wallace proposes in lump sum? While it was hard to keep awake and follow Porter's logic, which was none too clear to this country boy, the plea sounded too much like that of Wallace. Frankly, we are of the opinion that we have just started to "giving" to European nations. And while we are giving, giving, giving, we are reminded that Upton Close told us years ago that America should let decaying Europe go to hades, and for us to turn our eyes to the Pacific where untold resources lie. Upton Close, world traveller, is of the opinion that whoever wins in Europe will be the loser in the long run. But we have everything to win by developing the Pacific. Facts are, no matter in which direction we turn, America is hated for the wealth and resources of the nation. The more we give, the more that is demanded from us. When will the end be?

The Newsman attended the convention of the Texas Press Association in Amarillo last week-end. The attendance was not so large as the attendance at the Panhandle Press Association, but every section of the state was represented. It seems a little queer that the boys down state think that the Panhandle publishers should come to the conventions held 750 to 1,000 miles to the south of us; but so few of them will come out and enjoy the hospitality of the greatest part of Texas. Perhaps the convention this year will be a great inducement for the Texas Press Association to come back soon. Two Panhandlemen performed a noteable job in putting over the convention this year—Deck Wells, secretary of the Association; and Old Tack, Gene Howe, of the Amarillo Globe-News. Gene Howe spent a wad of money to see to it that the program was tops this year, and that every one present had a real time. Members of the Panhandle Press Association are accustomed to having a great time at the convention of the oldest and largest regional press association in the world. This time Mr. Howe shot the works in entertainment of the state association. Visitors from down state marveled at such big hearted spirit which prevailed in the Panhandle, making possible the fine entertainment which was put on for the newspaper visitors.

After hearing several heated discussions on the college building program for Texas colleges from those who still think that the University and A. and M. College should play Santa Claus and divide their oil royalty with the other colleges, we have reached this conclusion: Those who propose such a division are either kidding themselves, or trying to kid the people; that the only way the colleges will get adequate building is to divert 5 cents of the Confederate tax levy to the college building fund. Those who claim that there is an inadequate division of the proposed tax fund should look at the unanimous approval of every college president in Texas; at the unanimous approval of every board of regents in Texas; at the two-thirds majority of the legislature; and the approval of the best posted men of the state. The fact that the West Texas Chamber of Commerce got out on a limb and tried to force a division of the university oil fund is no argument that the Chamber was right. At least its proposal was not popular. The Chamber may say that the majority is not always right; to which we say, correct, but sometimes the minority has to accept a half loaf rather than nothing at all. Vote for the Amendment on August 23.

We have talked with scores of thinking men about the President's veto of the tax bill. With one accord they reply: The veto was good, IF the administration will use the money to reduce the national debt. The $1800 debt on the head of every American troubles our citizens. But the veto is all wrong if the administration hopes to keep on feeding useless and unworthy governmental agencies which have sprung up during the past 16 years. Perhaps it is fortunate that we have a Republican Congress to keep its eye on the nation's spending. While it is always bad to have Congress and the President from opposing political faith, perhaps the present set-up might be the best thing for the nation. At any rate, there is no Democrat on the horizon who is capable of replacing the President; and out among the folks in the fork of the creek, the Republicans seem to be as fearful of Tom Dewey and Senator Taft as the Democrats are of Wallace. Continuing Truman as President in 1948, with a strong Republican Congress might be a blessing to the nation.

In looking over the display of editorials at the Texas Press Association, one publisher of a really good newspaper asked: Why editorials; what good are they? Well, the Newsman often wonders that very thing. Some weeks editorial material just jumps at the newspaper man; other weeks it is like pulling teeth to gather readable material. When the paper comes out some weeks, we feel that the editorial page is a drab lifeless thing. And about that time a good reader comes along and says that the editorials are the best part of the paper. We take another hitch at the mythical suspenders and start in again. Frankly we like to express our opinion on this page. We do not expect every reader to agree. That is your privilege. We look at about 100 newspapers every week, and those without editorials are lifeless to a very great extent. So we keep on trying.

Those Range Riders of Amarillo should be called the "Goodwill Ambassadors of the Panhandle." It is an expensive organization so far as the individual members are concerned, as they go when called and always put on a good show without charge. And something else the average layman does not know: Those fellows have found that 100 or more men can get together and play without booze. The Range Riders have many thousands of dollars invested in their horses and equipment. Isn't it fine to know that here is a group of men ready to serve their state on a moment's notice.

Who owns America? We have heard fancied tales that just a handful of men control the wealth of the nation. What about the 460 billion wealth of the nation? There are 140 million consumers, who own 29 million homes and use the facilities of 27,000 hotels and apartment houses. The nation has 102 billions of dollars invested in homes; 58 billions invested in farms; 49 billions invested in clothing and household appliances; 63 billions invested in utilities, stock of which is scattered throughout the nation; 42½ billions invested in 200,000 manufacturing plants, 72½ of which are classified as small businesses. All of our business amounts to 175 billion dollars annually; and this income can be pushed up to 200 billion when all of our industries and businesses take advantage of liberal advertising.

Chicago real estate owners are deliberately violating OPA rent control regulations. They can see no sense in holding down rents while other prices have advanced. They are hoping that Congress will heed the plea of property owners and kick out OPA. We shall see what happens.

Jim Farley writes about his break with President Roosevelt. But investigators, keen newspaper men, say that Farley's wife was at the bottom of the trouble. Wife Bess hated the Roosevelts and hated Washington. No wonder she was not invited to White House affairs. The Roosevelts are no chumps when it came to this hating business.

BOYCE HOUSE "Gives You Texas"

Nothing which has been touched upon in this column in months has attracted as much comment as the recent criticism of the incident in Pawtucket, Rhode Island, where a man was arrested and fined for laughing. Nearly all the reaction from our readers has been favorable but several letters were received from Rhode Island, or former Rhode Island citizens and they took your columnist over the coals.

Their letters criticized Texas. In other words, the writers denied that I had the right to criticize their state but they had the right to criticize mine.

If Texans have faults—and of course we do have—that would be no excuse for the Pawtucket outrage—for that is what it is, an outrage. Our forefathers wrote into the Bill of Rights the assurance of freedom of speech, freedom of press and freedom of worship; they did not provide for freedom of laughter for the reason they never dreamed that anyone would question that right.

I have before me a letter from the mayor of Pawtucket who admits the man was arrested and fined for laughing but the fine was paid back, so that ought to make everything just ducky. The reason it was paid back was because editorial writers and columnists by the scores all over the nation protested. Was the chief of police fired or even reprimanded for making the arrest? Was the judge who levied the fine kicked out of office?

When the letters protesting against the criticism made in this column came from men, I replied by mailing them a timetable showing the trains that leave Texas, northbound.

Those who don't like Texas ought to go back to the place they do like, then both they and we will be happy.

The first edition of "Cub Reporter," your columnist's new book, is 1,001 copies, numbered and signed by the author. Hightower Press, 610 E. 10th, Dallas, is the publisher.

Dairy Products Are On the Increase States Authority

Dr. Geo. W. Cook, State Health Officer, endorsing the observance of June as National Dairy Month, today released a statement congratulating Texas dairymen on the remarkable progress they have made in the past few years.

"It is gratifying to note that where 20 years ago there were no evaporated milk, powdered milk, or cheese plants in Texas, now this State produces all 6 of the major dairy products: buttermilk, ice cream, butter, evaporated milk, cheese, and powdered milk."

Dr. Cox pointed out that last year Texas made 25,396,000 pounds of butter, 13,699,000 pounds of cheddar cheese, and over 30,000,000 gallons of ice cream.

"Milk is our most nearly perfect food," Dr. Cox said. "It is rich in proteins, Vitamins A and G, and the minerals, calcium and phosphate."

"The State Health Department is indeed glad to join with the Texas dairymen in celebrating June as Dairy Month," Dr. Cox said, "and to urge that from a health protection angle, at least a pint of milk be included in the daily diet of all adults and an even larger amount provided for children."

Executive department experts worried over effects of impending budget cuts, are scurring out of Government jobs to the comparative safety of private industry.

Land Of Milk

—AND MONEY!

There's no "three-cornered stool" in the dairy business today. Families used to "keep a cow" for the babies, but cows bring in BIG money today for many folks in our area. It's truly a "land of milk and money." Butter, cheese, evaporated milk—and all of the other dairy products that come out of our territory are making money for thousands of farmers.

We have so much confidence in the dairy industry—and all other industries we serve—that we are investing 35 million dollars in a building program. This expansion program in our territory will bring more dependable electric service to home, farm and industry and better living—electrically—to everyone!

Handsome offers by big corporations are being made to this June's college graduates, especially to those tecchnically trained. Bids run from $200 to $300 a month and even more to start as against $125 in 1941. Next year offers may not be so plentiful: There'll be a boom in grads and companies will be more selective.

Carrie Jo Heare Becomes Bride of Don Patton in Double Ring Rites

In a candlelight ceremony Tuesday evening, June 17, Miss Carrie Jo Heare, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Heare of this city became the bride of Don Patton of Brownfield, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Patton of Canadian.

Rev. Robert W. Jones, pastor, read the double-ring service in the First Presbyterian Church. The altar was decorated with floor baskets of white and pink gladioli and candelabra bearing tall lighted tapers.

While the guests assembled, Mrs. Lee Foster, organist, played, "Traumeri," by Schumann and "Clair de Lune," by Depussy.

Introducing the ceremony, the tapers were lighted by Frank Heare, brother of the bride, and Billie Burum of Panhandle, cousin of the bride, as Mrs. Foster played, "Long, Ago," by Kern. Mrs. J. D. Barker sang, "I Love Thee," by Grieg. The traditional wedding marches were used for the processional and recessional, and "To A Wild Rose," by MacDowell, formed a musical accompaniment for the vows.

Miss Evelyn Milam of Sudan attended the bride as maid of honor. She wore a gown of pink net styled with full skirt and fitted basque. Her shoulder length veil was of matching net and was attached to a tiara of pink taffeta.

Jack Patton of Lubbock served the bridegroom as best man, and Leroy Bernie and Frank Heare, brothers of the bride, were ushers.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a wedding gown of imported Swiss organdy, which she had designed and made. The dress was fashioned with a fitted basque accented by a full three-tiered skirt. Her finger-tip veil of matching organdy was edged with lace and fell from a tiara of lace and orange blossoms. She wore elbow length mits of organdy and carried a bridal bouquet of American Beauty roses and stephanotis encircling an orchid. For "something borrowed," she wore a lavalier belonging to Mrs. Eunice Holland of Miami.

Mrs. Heare, mother of the bride, wore a dress of grey sheer with black and white accessories, and Mrs.. Patton, mother of the bridegroom, was attired in a black crepe dress with white accessories. Both wore corsages of pink carnations.

Following the ceremony, the bridal party was honored at a reception in the basement of the church. Assisting in receiving were, Mrs. Groves Burum and Mrs. O. C. Branum of Panhandle and Mrs. W. R. Holland of Miami. Miss Billie Burum presided at the guest book, and Miss Marion McReynolds provided piano selections for the occasion.

The bride's table was covered with a lace cloth, and centered with an arrangement of roses. The four-tiered wedding cake was served with punch by Miss Mary Holland and Mrs. Eldon Saul of Miami.

For the wedding trip to Colorado Springs, Colo., the bride chose a suit of white gabardine with accessories of aqua and black and an orchid corsage. After June 22, the couple will be at home in Brownfield.

The bride was graduated from Miami High School and West Texas State College, Canyon. During the past year, she taught homemaking in Perryton High School.

The bridegroom was graduated from Higgins High School, attended Texas Technological College, and served thirty-eight months in the Army Air Corps. He is an assistant computer for Petty Geophysical Engineering Company.

Among the out-of-town guests attending the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. Paul Patton of Canadian; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Patton of Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Heare, Rev. and Mrs. Lee Stanford, Dorothy Sue, Jessie and Paul Martin, and Lucile Nelson of Amarillo.

Mrs. Eunice Holland, Mary and Bennie, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Holland, Barbara and Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Saul of Miami; Mr. and Mrs. Groves Burum, Earl and Billie Grace, Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Grimes, Mrs. Carrie Wright, Mrs. Opal Cleek, Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Branum, Joye and Patricia Ann, all of Panhandle; Miss Evelyn Milam of Sudan; J. B. Bondle of Booker; Mr. and Mrs. William A. Munroe of Brownfield; Mrs. R. B. Elliott, Shirley, Ross, Ben and Stan, of Happy.

Atom Bomb Seen As News Guide

Mighty Weapon Demands New Perspective, Declare Special Writers.

NEW YORK.—No proper evaluation of the news today can be made without the atomic bomb as the frame of reference, William L. Laurence, New York science reporter, told 500 students here.

"The worst thing we can do is to allow ourselves to be lulled to sleep behind an atomic Maginot line," Laurence said, speaking to teachers attending a course on "Evaluating the News."

Hanson W. Baldwin, military analyst, who shared the program with Laurence, declared that the atomic bomb had completely changed the problem of security.

Effective Control.

"The paradox of American 'security' in the year 1947 is that there is no 'defense'—using the word in its narrow term," Baldwin said. "Never before has the old aphorism that a strong offense is the best defense been so true."

Laurence said that there could be no security unless the nations of the world could work out an effective method for international control of atomic energy, a method that would make certain that no nation, great or small, could manufacture or possess atomic bombs or the fissionable materials in a form easily convertible into atomic bombs.

"Without such security there can be no peace, no matter what decisions are arrived at around the conference table in Moscow," he said.

What to Do.

Baldwin urged that the teachers, in trying to understand military news, do the following:

"Examine the source of the news, compare the news, beware of censorship, put the military news in perspective against the political and economic background and supplement the news with interpretation, commentary and opinion.

"Never consider military stories purely in the vacuum of that subject alone. Military action can, and often does, affect political action and vice versa, and influence economic trends. Look not only for the military significance of a military story, but also for its political significance.

"Remember, particularly in military stories, that a war department policy, as officially announced and released to the press, does not necessarily reflect the feelings or the opinions of all the people in the army or even a full statement of the facts."

He listed as the two requirements for judging any story, military or otherwise, "a background of solid basic factual information, and an inquiring and even skeptical mind." He said, "Far too many people believe everything they read, with no critical evaluation of it."

United States Discloses It Nipped Nazi Revolt Plot

FRANKFURT. — United States army officials disclosed the smashing last July of a secret Nazi sabotage organization known as DFFB.

The saboteurs plotted to overthrow the German civil government, the army said. Their password was "12 carat diamond."

A headquarters command announcement said the underground network had been wiped out with the arrest of four former high-ranking Storm Troop officers. The four went on trial before a military government court, charged with "acts hostile to the interests of the Allied forces."

The arrests had been kept secret for eight months, the army said, to permit investigation of the organization's ramifications "outside the American zone of Germany."

Black-market dealings financed the plotters, who intended to use secret radio transmitters to call upon the German people to join in the movement, an army spokesman said.

Explosion of Chemistry Set Turns Youth to New Career

COLUMBUS, OHIO. — Freddie Renault Jr., 9, decided against future attempts to advance science.

Home from school for several days with glandular fever, he had whiled away the time with his chemistry set. Then the "invisible ink" exploded, setting his room aflame.

After his mother and firemen had extinguished the blaze with only nominal damage, Freddie announced that he would become a tap-dancing teacher when he grows up.

New Radio Frequency Solves Some Technical Problems

MOSCOW. — A new frequency—the fourth and best tried—has relayed loudly and clearly the "Voice of America" broadcast to Russia and has partly solved the technical problems of the project, United States embassy officials said.

Munich Radio, which beams the U. S. state department's hour-long Russian-language program into the Soviet Union from New York, tried the 25.27-meter band and, for the first time, piped in the broadcast with no interference from European stations.

The dime novel is not extinct—its price may simply be $3.50.

The Communist seizure of power in Hungary was not the complete surprise to the U. S. that many diplomats thought it was. Developments in that country have been accurately forecast by the U. S. Minister for months. The idea that the Communist moves were an unexpected reply to the U. S. policy of trying to block Soviet expansion is discounted in Washington.

Whatever Communists say, there is in their Holy Russia neither freedom nor peace nor plenty—Norman Thomas, Socialist leader.

"You can't," shouted the farmer, "you ain't fat enough."

Will I take a job? Well, I might sometime. But I have nothing definite in mind. I never take life easy. I never shall.—The Duke of Windsor.

Hollywood is one of the main centers of communistic activity in the United States.—Adolph Menjou, movie actor.
